

Rewards Beyond Physical Security

Introduction

Inclusive Sports and Fitness (ISF) is a non-profit organization whose mission is to provide physical fitness and sports performance training to children on the autism spectrum or living with other developmental challenges. Using sports and fitness equipment and leading-edge neuro and health sciences research, therapists and mentors work with young athletes to increase their social interaction, cognitive-behavioral skills and motor function.

Challenge

When ISF moved to a larger facility, it needed a reputable IT services vendor to set up and install network cameras and management software to help staff monitor the locations of everyone on the premises and to ensure security for the new location. ISF was looking for an IT services vendor that had:

- Experience with video surveillance installation and software implementation
- A partnership with a high-quality, reputable video surveillance vendor

Our Approach

Sourcepass GOV understood the need that ISF had for a physical video surveillance solution that would maximize the safety of the environment. Our team is highly experienced and understands how to plan, design, and integrate enterprise-ready solutions into existing IT networks.

Our physical security solutions help clients maximize the safety of their environments through comprehensive planning, technology and systems integration solutions for improved situational awareness and crisis management.

Solution

ISF found a solution with Sourcepass GOV, a local IT services provider with extensive experience with video surveillance installations, and AXIS, the video surveillance provider. Initially, the project was to set up a few surveillance cameras for security, along with the associated software, but the project quickly expanded once ISF realized that they could use cameras to visually document their athletes' progress over time.

Sourcepass GOV also installed network cameras in the therapy rooms to monitor athletes' progress and added a large-screen monitor in the lounge to allow parents and caretakers to watch live video of their children engaging in various activities in the fitness center.

Most parents don't even realize the capacity of their children with autism to perform without their help. With the Axis cameras we not only show them what they're capable of today, but what milestones they can achieve over time.

Conclusion

What started out as a routine video surveillance installation and software implementation for Sourcepass GOV, quickly became a rewarding experience. Sourcepass GOV is proud to have been a part of installing and implementing these critical assessment tools that allows ISF to analyze and help improve behavior for future therapy sessions.
